I. Introduction

Highly effective teachers and principals are paramount to producing college and career ready learners. To continuously improve the quality of the state's educator preparation providers (EPP), the Arkansas Department of Education (ADE) is working collaboratively with the institutions of higher education (IHE) and the Arkansas Department of Higher Education (ADHE) to report data through Educator Preparation Performance Report (EPPR).

The intent of the report is two-fold: 1) to report information on enrollees and graduates at the institutions and 2) to report demographic and statistical data to inform policy decisions. The commitment of EPPs to providing accurate, relevant data in a timely manner demonstrates their dedication and contribution to the success of this effort. All parties involved share an interest in preparing the best possible educators to provide a quality education to all Arkansas students. Identification of the metrics and the report format were developed in collaboration with a representative committee from all Arkansas EPPs (Table 1).

The abbreviations above are utilized throughout this document.

Metrics include:

- Data submitted to HEA Title II (The HEA Title II Report is a national data collection for institutions and states related to teacher preparation and licensure. HEA Title II Reports can be found at <https://title2.ed.gov/Public/Home.aspx>.)
 - Program Requirements, Enrollment, and Completers
 - EPP Race and Ethnicity data
 - Program Field Experiences, Clinical Practice, and Faculty data
- Data submitted to ADE
 - Numbers of teachers prepared, licensed, and working in AR public schools
 - Novice Teacher Perception of EPP Surveys
- Data submitted to Educational Testing Service (ETS®) for Title II Pass Rate reporting
 - Licensure Exam Pass Rates

Limitations of the EPPR

- The most recent data reported for these metrics are not all representative of the same years. For example, licensure exam pass rates represent the 2013-14 academic year; while Title II data usually represents the previous year (2012-13 data is included in the 2014 report).
- Data reported for graduates who were teaching the following year only represent graduates who were teaching in Arkansas public schools. The data do not include teachers who teach in private schools or schools outside the state.
- Data reported do not distinguish between those with an AAT (Associate of Arts in Teaching) or other students who transfer into the institutions.
- Institutions having both traditional educator preparation programs and nontraditional programs (e.g. MAT programs) may have combined data in some areas for those respective institutions.

Uses of the EPPR

- The EPPR allows the public to view aggregate data for Arkansas's EPP graduates by institution and program area.
- School districts and charter schools can use the report to make informed decisions about hiring.
- Students interested in pursuing a career in education can use the report to make decisions regarding which program to attend.
- Institutions may use the data to support continuous improvement efforts.
- Data will assist state and institutional policy makers in identifying future needs and targeted improvements.

Arkansas Public Schools (APS) employ over 2,000 new teachers each year. Table 2 demonstrates that many teachers return and continue to teach, but some do not. Since 2005 approximately 14 percent of new teachers do not return to APS after one (1) year of teaching. Twenty-eight percent do not return after three (3) years, and 34 percent are lost after five (5) years. These state numbers are far below the often-reported national average of 50% after five (5) years; however, the ADE is committed to keeping as many effective teachers in classrooms as possible.

Table 2. Teacher Attrition

Year	# New Teachers	# attrition after 1 year	% attrition after 1 year	# attrition after 3 years	% attrition after 3 years	# attrition after 5 years	% attrition after 5 years

5-yr attrition (2005-2010)	12,012					4175	Avg = 34.76%

1-yr attrition = the average % of teachers not returning in Arkansas Public Schools after one year

3-yr attrition = the average % of teachers not returning in Arkansas Public Schools after three years

5-yr attrition = the average % of teachers not returning in Arkansas Public Schools after five years

Another issue that requires attention is teacher licensure shortage areas. Currently the state has identified shortage areas in first-time license areas of Art, Foreign Language (FL), Drama/Speech, Family & Consumer Science (F&CS), and Mathematics.

Examining these data annually will help the state to address areas of need. Figure 1 is an example of some changes that are evident as a result of efforts to address shortage areas. Although it is not the only factor involved, increasing the numbers of teachers prepared in these areas over time is surely a step in the right direction.

II. Enrollment and Demographic Data

Each year EPPs report enrollment, race, ethnicity, and gender of students in their programs to HEA Title II. Data from the 2014 HEA Title II Report is presented in Table 3. These are the number of students in first-time licensure programs in 2012-2013.

VII. Praxis® Licensure Test Pass Rates

The Praxis® Tests reported herein are those assessments that are required for teacher licensure in Arkansas. EPPs with approved programs for that particular subject area are listed beneath each test. Pass rates reflect the number of students taking each test for the first time between 9/1/13 and 8/31/14, and the numbers passing each test. Highest and lowest scores on each test are also included. IHEs had the opportunity to verify their students took the tests listed for their institution. Data include both traditional and nontraditional routes.

VIII. Praxis® Licensure Test Summary Pass Rates

Tables 11 and 12 on Summary Pass Rates reflect the percentage of all program completers (PCs) who passed all tests they took for their area of specialization among those who took one or more tests in their specialization areas. Years with less than ten PCs per year were combined (over three years) for a pass rate.

IX Surveys of Novice Teacher Perceptions of Preparation

First year teachers complete the “Novice Teacher Survey” at the end of their first full year of teaching. The survey is designed to identify how well they feel their educator preparation provider prepared them for teaching. The questions and results from spring 2014 are indicated below.

Table 13. Survey results for both traditional and nontraditional routes

Instructions were: "Please choose the number that most accurately reflects your level of preparation for each of the statement topics."
SCALE: 1. Not at all prepared 2. Inadequately prepared 3. Adequately prepared 4. Well prepared 5. Very well prepared

X. Glossary

Educator Preparation Provider (EPP) – Educator preparation providers are institutions and organizations that offer teacher preparation programs. Educator preparation providers can be Institutions of Higher Education (IHEs) offering traditional programs (traditional route to licensure), IHEs offering alternative programs (nontraditional route to licensure), or organizations not based at IHEs offering alternative programs. Educator preparation ‘programs’ are those individual tracks offered under the auspices of each provider.

HEA Title II (Title II of the Higher Education Act of 1965) – In October 1998 Congress reauthorized the Higher Education Act. Title II, Sections 207 and 208 reflect the efforts of States, Institutions of Higher Education (IHE), and their school district partners to improve the recruitment, preparation, and support of new teachers. The HEA Title II Report includes requirements, conditions, and specifications for institutions and states related to teacher preparation and licensure.

IHE – Institution of Higher Education; college or university.

Nontraditional route to licensure – A post-baccalaureate preparation program designed for individuals seeking licensure as a teacher whose undergraduate, or post-baccalaureate degree is not in educator preparation. Under the Arkansas Department of Education rules for nontraditional licensure, this is a program that allows them to serve as teacher of record while enrolled in a program of study.

Pedagogy – The art or science of teaching; education; instructional methods.

Praxis[®] licensure tests – Examinations offered by ETS[®] taken by individuals entering the teaching profession (required by many states, including Arkansas) as part of the licensure process. Passing scores are required on the appropriate basic skills, pedagogy, and content-area assessments as mandated by the State Board of Education.

Program completer – A person who has met all the requirements of a state-approved educator preparation program. Program completers include all those who are documented as having met such requirements. Documentation may take the form of a degree, institutional certificate, program credential, transcript or other written proof of having met the program’s requirements.

Supervised clinical experience (SCE) – Pre-service teaching (student teaching) or internship in a school setting that provides candidates with extensive opportunities to develop and demonstrate competence in the professional roles for which they are preparing. This is completed under the guidance and supervision of licensed practicing school personnel and college or university supervisory personnel.

Traditional route to licensure – An undergraduate program of study or graduate program of study at an institution of higher education that prepares candidates for licensure as a teacher, special education teacher, school counselor, school administrator, or other school professional. These programs include a supervised clinical experience (student teaching) but the students do not serve as teacher of record while enrolled in the program of study.
